

DECISION GOES TO MR. ROBERT WAUGH

Ft. Worth Boy Wins From Billy Wagner After 15 Rounds of It.

CROWD WAS SMALL

Show Pleased Those Present; Wagner Inclined to "Hold on."

Bobby Waugh of Fort Worth won the decision from Billy Wagner of Salt Lake City after 15 rounds of furious boxing at Convention hall last night. The bout was started by the local committee of the G. A. R.-U. S. C. V. encampment, which opens here today, but the attendance was disappointing. Less than seven hundred persons were present.

The show was eminently satisfactory. Waugh fairly earned the decision. He fought every second, forcing the battle in nearly every round. Wagner showed flashes of cleverness, and used a jab that annoyed the Fort Worth boy, but Wagner lost the sympathy of the crowd by holding on and covering up. He was plainly trying to save himself. He appeared to have the worst of the weight question from 5 to 10 pounds, but this did not excuse him for failing to mix it.

In the last round Wagner was willing to exchange blows and as a result the crowd stood to its feet and cheered madly.

When Referee Al Venn raised Waugh's hand in token of victory the audience cheered loudly.

Lots of Music

The Oklahoma G. A. R. drum corps played during the evening and music was also furnished by the Tulsa band. The best battle royal ever staged in Tulsa furnished quite a lot of amusement. Five colored gladiators, one of whom was larger than the rest, mixed things in a furious manner for two rounds. Then the big fellow quit and the other four went to it, until all of them were eliminated. It finally narrowed down to one boxer, who was declared the winner.

Kid Miller and Kid Pat, juveniles, put up a four-round curtain raiser that brought them a shower of silver at the finish. Kid Pat looked like a miniature Carl Morris and his style of boxing was similar to that of the Sapulpan.

Kid Black and Young Willard were scheduled to go six rounds, but they proved too slow to follow the preceding fast events and Referee Glenn Condon started them to the dressing rooms after the first round.

THE MAJESTY OF THE LAW MUST BE UPHELD

When the law says "come on" its time to follow instruction.

That is, unless you are willing to part with several pounds of Uncle Sam's script and spend a summer's vacation investigating the tensile strength of highway paving material, for that is what Municipal Judge Cavitt has decided is the only alternative. Saturday night Motorcycle Officer Council placed William Davis under arrest and before he could bring his prisoner to the station a fight was in progress with the prisoner as second best man. His bond was fixed at $50. Detective Czerby had difficulty in placing Ed Daniels under arrest. It cost Ed $100 and ninety days on the rock pile. G. A. Blackburn hit Patrolman Wilkinson. Judge Cavitt thought $50 and twenty days would be enough in his case.

But the impression in "hard-boiled" circles is that the law has the backing of the court and so, when the law says "come on" its time to follow instructions.

JUST DETERMINED TO "GET" CITY PUMPER

Year Long Fight to Depose Oren Nelson Is Begun With Renewed Vigor.

Special to The World.

HARTSHORNE, Okla., May 15.—A year long fight to depose Oren Nelson, Democrat, as city pumper was reopened in the Hartshorne city council this week and Mayor George W. Walsh, Republican, lost.

Since Mayor Walsh's election a year ago there has been an almost continual fight as to who should be city pumper. It began at the first council meeting following the installation of the new Republican mayor who had defeated John Robertson, blind Democrat, by the narrow margin of one vote.

Nelson had been appointed by Mayor Robertson and when the new mayor was sworn in he appointed a Republican. The council was Democratic, however, and that body refused to confirm the mayor's selection. As a result, Nelson has held over.

When Robertson, former mayor, was elected as a member of the council at the last city election the fight was reopened and at this week's meeting, Nelson was elected pumper for a full year, following the council's refusal for a second time to confirm the mayor's Republican appointee.

Mayor Walsh also sought to remove J. R. Berry, Democrat, as night marshal, but the council refused to approve Berry's dismissal.

The Usual Symptom.

EX-CONVICT SAYS PEN IS TERRIBLE

Just Released From McAlester, Says Prisoners Treated Badly.

MURPHY'S THERE TOO

Murderer of Tulsa County Jail Is Confined in the Dungeon.

(BY WILLIAM DOYLE—No. 5468).

"I've just done a fall at McAlester for forgery, and at that it's not my first. I fell in Colorado State and I fell at Lansing, but, take it from me, McAlester is the worst."

The speaker was a man who tugged at a small piece of cord which his nervous fingers tied into knots, only to untie again as he peered from the face of one of his listeners to another to see if his story was believed.

Clothes Too Heavy. His prison togs were much too heavy for the weather of the day and to vouch for the number he gave he pulled from the upper part of the cheap prison shoe a tag bearing the number 5468.

"I tell you things are fierce down there," he continued. "The worst I have ever seen." He talked with an air of one who knows and he made no attempt to hide the fact that he spoke with authority.

"Why, I have seen men down there strung along their cell bars until their toes could barely touch the floor. They hung there until they dropped off and then the M. D. would come along with the smelling salts and when they came to they would be hung up again. Sometimes they hung there 36 hours at a time.

"Black Wagon."

"But even if a fellow was sick he was afraid to go to the hospital. If you're a bad one down there and go to the hospital you may make your next trip in the 'black wagon.' Many a time I've been too sick to work, but I was afraid to go to the M. D. for fear of the 'black bottle.' That's a way they have of getting rid of the bad ones.

Murphy's There, Too.

"There's a fellow from Tulsa down there. They say he killed a jailer up here. He's down in the cell without any light, any food, clothes or air. He's going mad, but you can't help him. They've got it in for him and that settles it.

"I guess I haven't got much business talking like this, but you see I'm out now and I know what it is. Maybe somebody will look into things that are going on down there, and anyway I'm going to leave this state. It would be the 'black bottle' for me if I ever fell back there again."

TULSA IS FIGHTING FOR U. C. V. REUNION

Making Strong Bid at Birmingham for 69th Annual Meeting.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16.—

Welcome meetings Monday by the Southern Association and the Sons of Veterans showed the thousands of old Confederate soldiers and visitors to the twenty-sixth annual reunion that Birmingham is ready to receive them with open arms.

The sessions of the reunion begin tomorrow morning and last through Thursday, the crowning feature being the parade of the old soldiers Thursday morning. Nearly two score special trains arriving today brought throngs from all section of Dixie. The local committee in charge of arrangements predicted that the attendance will reach the hundred thousand mark.

Talk of this being the last gathering of the grey clad hosts today and each among the old soldiers today and Memphis, Tenn., and Tulsa, Okla., both found support for the next meeting. Washington, D. C., also was said to be a bidder for the event, but there was no active campaign for that city. The arrival of about twenty bands, some of which were immediately pressed into service for the containing cities, added to the excitement of the first day.

General Bennett Young of Louisville, Ky., commander-in-chief of the veterans, together with his staff, arrived early in the day. General Young declared he is not an active candidate for re-election. General George Harrison, commander-in-chief of Alabama division of the army of Tennessee, is spoken of as a probable successor to General Young.

Because of the heat wave which has struck the city, Palm Beach suits will succeed the formal evening clothes for the big reunion balls Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Despite the weather, no reports of accidents to old soldiers had been received by the police.

Governor Charles Henderson of Alabama, Mayor George B. Ward of this city and Mrs. W. J. Behan, president-general of the Confederate Southern Memorial association, welcomed the visitors at the afternoon meeting. Greetings also were given by General Young, W. N. Brandon of Arkansas, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans, and Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

TULSA HI PUPILS ATTEND REVIVAL

Campus Scenes Are Re-enacted Within the Canvas Tabernacle.

Monday night was High School night at the great tabernacle and hundreds of students were present and enlivened the meeting by giving their cheers and yells. The crowd last night did not fill the tent, but it was considered exceptionally good for a Monday turnout.

Reverend Coale preached an excellent sermon on the subject "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" E. McKelzie, chorister, sang tenderly, "He is My Friend."

Announcement was made that the ladies of the Boston Avenue Methodist church, south, will hold cottage prayer meetings in each of the 11 districts into which the city has been divided during the big revival campaign.

Meetings in Shops. Meetings are to be held in the factories and stores within a short time and the campaign is to be made the most vigorous ever waged in this city. The big tent was filled to overflowing Sunday and extra seats had to be provided to accommodate the crowd. The rain in the morning made it impossible to hold the service at the tabernacle and the Boston avenue church was utilized.

Negotiations With Great Britain Will Be Continued Now

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Secretary Lansing made it clear late today that while the administration was finding it difficult to proceed in negotiations with Great Britain on blockade matters because of the statements contained in the last German submarine note, the negotiations would be continued in the near future. He added that more prompt-

A real Guarantee

To be more than a mere "scrap of paper," a guarantee must be absolute—and backed by a concern able and willing to make it good.

The General's guarantee is not only absolute; it is backed by a business operating the world's largest roofing mills, and making one-third of all the roll roofing made in America. That's the guarantee behind

Certain-teed Roofing

The guarantee is for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). There is no evasion about it—no attempt to substitute a high-sounding something "just as good." There is no substitute for a real guarantee. You get an absolute guarantee on CERTAIN-TEED because the General knows that no better roofing can be made. Its raw materials and method of manufacture are both certified by the General's board of graduate chemists, and he knows he's taking no chance in guaranteeing them to you. That's what "CERTAIN-TEED" means—certified and guaranteed. Experience has proven that the guarantee is conservative, and that CERTAIN-TEED will outlast the period of guarantee.

Certain-teed Roofing

The roofing felt, as it comes bone dry from the rollers, is given a thorough saturation of a special blend of soft asphalts, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then given a harder coating of another blend of asphalts. This keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing. Roofing is impervious to the elements only so long as the asphalt saturation lasts. CERTAIN-TEED retains its soft saturation, and is in good condition for years after the harder, drier kinds have become useless.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-covered shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure—Adv.

S. P. Strahan of Perry and W. R. Kelley of Kingfisher, both past department commanders, arrived on the ground with the advance guard and were busy last night shaking hands with old comrades and preparing to enter into the business of the encampment with all the vim they displayed back in '65.

One of the busiest veterans who arrived with the advance guard of the Grand Army of the Republic was Colonel W. H. Hornaday, past department commander and past national inspector-general, who now resides at Guthrie.

Capt. A. A. Beasler of Chandler has arrived and, as department commander, is one of the busiest men in the lobby of the Brady hotel.

Catherine De Lacey Roche, Scranton, Pa., national president of the Grand Army, is making her first visit to Oklahoma.

Col. T. H. Soward, adjutant general of the department, arrived in Tulsa early Monday morning and has his force at work preparing all reports for the opening session this morning. Colonel Soward has the honor of being past department com-

Paige A Season's Driving is the Test

IN their efforts to keep pace with the Fairfield "Six-46" other manufacturers of light Sixes are introducing radical features—new designs—new power plants—new engineering theories. These are all experimental.

Whether or not your choice is the Fairfield "Six-46" ($1295)—for your own protection bear this vital point in mind:

A season's driving in the hands of the car-owner is the only fair test that such innovations in design are practical and successful.

Tests in laboratories or on speedways are not conclusive. Time and actual road service offer the only final proof that the practical, enduring qualities are really there. Why then buy an experiment?

Then, bear this in mind: The Fairfield "Six-46" has a motor supreme in power, flexibility and reliability. It has beauty, distinction and luxury of equipment unique in the Light Six field.

Most important of all, it has the overwhelming endorsement of thousands of Paige Owners.

In the Fairfield you buy an established Success—not an experiment.
